

GREAT POWERS: UNTIL RAMESES III

INTRODUCTION History is part of empires and empires are part of history. To understand the need for empires we have to look at the prehistoric changes in mankind and their surroundings and the growth of both. Naturally the rural regions came first with the nomadic and cave-dwellers becoming settlers in primitive housing. They gradually found easier ways of making stronger houses after they had made their first great innovation the axe which was primitive but so useful. Later it was smoothed down and a small handles added and was used for smoothing or carving wood it was called an adze or Adz and it came in two types.

The hand adze is used by coopers who are barrel makers called wainwrights and the foot adze which it has a cutting edge set at a right angle and something like todays hoe or plane. As such they were the first and longest tool used - but the major innovation was the wheel which is still used and being adapted in the twenty-first century.

The axe was just as useful in the Stone Age for cutting meat scraping animal skins digging holes and hammering bones and wood for various uses but most importantly in house building. Thus the rural villages and technology had arrived.

The distinction between rural and urban settlements in those days is simply rural and agricultural and it had associated crafts and spacious surroundings. In contrast urban settlements were fairly cluttered particularly the single-storey houses set in terraces but in essence they were merely larger villages culturally developed.

Cities were more or less just larger towns until the late periods of the Stone Age and the beginning of the Bronze Age when Empires and Emperors came into being.

The ancient history of mankind and the earth is riveting as mans ability to adapt alongside the earths evolution is equally fascinating.

The birth of and continuance of empires began from the ancient periods right down to the twenty-first century is captivatingly interesting. There is so much to learn about mankind's adventures began when they were able to build ships big enough and strong enough to sail to new unknown places and different peoples.

We are happy to provide quality fresh fruits, vegetables, Grass-fed and Finished Beef, Naturally & Humanely raised Pork, Pastured Chickens, and Cage Free Eggs to Clackamas County sustainably on our small acreage.

We strive to provide vegetables that grow well in our climate ensuring the best tasting local food available. We prefer to grow old-fashioned and rare varieties of vegetables believing that they are the best to offer but do also grow a very select, few varieties of hybrids, but they are counted on one hand! Much of what we grow, we save the seed of every year and re-offer it to members of the Seed Savers Exchange.

We thank all of you, the "locavores", food enthusiasts, market goers, and home chefs for making our goal of fresh, local, fruits and veggies sustainably a reality.

2015 is off to a great start! We are looking forward to what this year has to offer!

All our efforts are gearing up to get the growing season started...from ordering/starting/transplanting seeds, planning rotation crops for the fields, cleaning the greenhouses and field equipment, and clearing the fields! There is not a dull day here on the farm!

Planning for garden start varieties is in full swing also. This year we will be offering many of our favorite heirlooms, open-pollinated, and hybrid varieties that we have grown for the past 10+ years as well as many new-to-us varieties. We are diligent to not purchase, offer or grow GMO seeds or food.

Our mix of garden starts includes many different varieties of tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers, ground cherries, pumpkins, melons, flowers and other great things for your garden! Most, if not all, varieties are tried and true for our Pacific Northwest valley climate. Check out the Garden Start page for a printable list of varieties available. Or go directly to a specific list at our Tomato, Pepper, and Other garden start pages.

We grew over 100 heirloom/open-pollinated Pepper varieties and 125+ varieties of heirloom/open-pollinated Tomatoes in 2014! Not counting the numerous other garden necessities like heirloom flowers, cucumbers, summer and winter squash, herbs, and melons amongst other rare and hard to find vegetables! In 2015 we will continue with the tradition we've started and will be planting and growing almost all the varieties that have been started so that even if you don't buy a plant you have a chance to taste a range of different flavors!
